

Alignment Chart Test Questionnaire

Participant Information

Name:

Date:

Instructions: Please read each scenario carefully and select the response that best represents your thoughts or choices. There are no right or wrong answers; this test aims to understand your moral and ethical alignment.

Scenario 1: You witness someone stealing food to feed their starving family. What would you do?

- A) Report the theft to the authorities.
- B) Confront the individual and try to reason with them.
- C) Offer to buy the food for the family.
- D) Ignore the situation and continue with your own business.

Scenario 2: You find out a colleague has been cheating to get a promotion at work. How would you respond?

- A) Report the colleague to the higher-ups.
- B) Talk to the colleague privately and ask them to stop.
- C) Keep quiet and let the situation resolve itself.
- D) Help the colleague cheat even more to ensure they get promoted.

Scenario 3: In a hypothetical society, there are strict laws, but they are causing harm to certain groups. What would you advocate for?

- A) Uphold the existing laws, as they are essential for maintaining order.
- B) Push for law changes to protect vulnerable groups.
- C) Avoid getting involved in any advocacy and focus on personal matters.
- D) Exploit the laws to further your interests.

Scenario 4: You come across an injured stranger who needs immediate medical attention. What would you do?

- A) Call 911 or seek professional help immediately.
- B) Offer first aid and stay with the person until help arrives.
- C) Ignore the situation and continue with your plans.
- D) Take advantage of the situation to benefit yourself.

Scenario 5: You can save a rare and endangered animal species by supporting a conservation effort, but it will require significant personal sacrifices. What would you choose?

- A) Support the conservation effort, even if it means making sacrifices.
- B) Consider the effort but prioritize personal interests.
- C) Remain indifferent to the situation and focus on your own life.
- D) Actively work against the conservation effort to benefit yourself.

Scenario 6: You discover that a close friend has been spreading false rumors about you. How would you handle the situation?

- A) Confront your friend and seek a resolution.
- B) Try understanding why your friend did this and forgive them.
- C) Ignore the rumors and hope they fade away.
- D) Retaliate by spreading even worse rumors about your friend.

Interpretation