ALT Blood Test

Patient Information:
Name:	· · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · · ·	Date of Test:
Date of Birth:	Gender:	Medical Record Number:
Overview:
detect potential liver dan levels of ALT in the bloo	nage or disease. ALT is dstream can indicate liv	t is a diagnostic tool used to assess liver function and an enzyme primarily found in the liver, and elevated ver injury or impairment. This test provides crucial diagnosis and monitoring of liver conditions.
Test Instructions:
A healthcare profess drawn.	ional will clean the area	a (usually the inside of the elbow) where the blood will be
• A tourniquet may be	applied to make it easie	er to locate a suitable vein.
A sterile needle will bor vial.	oe inserted into the vein	, and a small amount of blood will be drawn into a test tube
The needle will be re	moved, and a bandage	will be applied to the puncture site.
Findings:
Follow Up:		