Interpreting your results:
The love language with the highest score is likely your primary love language, which means it's the way you most strongly prefer to receive love from your partner or loved ones. The love language with the second highest score is likely your secondary love language, which means it's another important way for you to feel loved and connected in your relationship.
Remember, this quiz is just a tool to help you better understand yourself and your partner/friends, and your family's love language preferences. It's important to communicate openly and honestly with your partner about how you prefer to give and receive love.
