Additional Notes

Write any reminders and additional details for the patient here, such as what side effects to expect, what to do in case of overdose or what symptoms should signal to stop taking medication. The patient can write down any questions here, too.

Expect some common side effects like mild stomach upset or diarrhea with Amoxicillin. Common side effects of Levocetirizine are drowsiness or dry mouth. These are usually mild, but if they interfere with your daily activities, let us know. Avoid alcohol while on these medication.

Remember to complete the full course of Amoxicillin, even if you start feeling better. If you experience difficulty breathing, swelling of the face, lips, tongue, or throat, stop taking Levocetirizine and contact us immediately.
