

Paranoid Personality Disorder Test

I read hidden insulting or threatening meanings into innocent remarks or events.

- Not at all / Just a little
- Somewhat
- Quite a lot / All the time

I have recurrent suspicions, without justifications, regarding the fidelity of my romantic partner (e.g., I think they're cheating on me).

- Not at all / Just a little
- Somewhat
- Quite a lot / All the time

I suspect that others are exploiting, harming, or deceiving me, without any concrete basis for my suspicions.

- Not at all / Just a little
- Somewhat
- Quite a lot / All the time

I am reluctant to confide in or open up to others because I fear the information will be maliciously used against me in the future.

- Not at all / Just a little
- Somewhat
- Quite a lot / All the time

I bear grudges (e.g., I don't forgive insults, injuries or slights).

- Not at all / Just a little
- Somewhat
- Quite a lot / All the time

I am preoccupied with unjustified doubts about the loyalty or trustworthiness of my friends, co-workers, and colleagues.

- Not at all / Just a little
- Somewhat
- Quite a lot / All the time

I perceive attacks on my character or reputation that aren't usually apparent to others, and am quick to react angrily or to counterattack.

- Not at all / Just a little
- Somewhat
- Quite a lot / All the time

I don't have a current diagnosis of schizophrenia, any psychotic disorder, or a diagnosis with psychotic features.

- Yes
- No